

Planting Seeds of Philanthropy

Letter from Board President Mark Seabrook

Greetings!

Planting seeds is an investment in the future. The Horseshoe Foundation is planting seeds of philanthropy for our community. On a literal note, the Scribner Gardens project is one of many examples of the philanthropic seeds planted by the foundation this past year. Our Scholarships are another way we plant seeds of philanthropy. We encourage our youth to succeed in life and give back to our community.

We at the Horseshoe Foundation of Floyd County are so appreciative to have received over $3.4 million by Horseshoe Southern Indiana in 2010. Through their generosity we have graciously sown the money back into the community through core development of the charitable organizations that give this community strength with their deep and penetrating roots.

Throughout this report you will get a glimpse of what the Foundation has accomplished throughout the year. We are excited to share our work and dedication to this great community with you as we continue to nurture the seeds of philanthropy.

Mark Seabrook
Horseshoe Foundation Board President

Special Initiatives

Scribner Gardens Restoration

As the city of New Albany and Floyd County look forward to the celebration of their Bicentennial, it was a fitting tribute to the founding Scribner families to restore the Scribner gardens as a place of beauty on their historic property. The Piankeshaw Chapter of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution is the owner and guardian of the original 1814 Scribner House property. The project was made possible through a collaborative effort between the YMCA, City of New Albany, DAR, and the Horseshoe Foundation of Floyd County.

The Scribners have a long and rooted history with the City of New Albany. Their home, the Scribner House built in 1814, was the first framed home built in the city. Bus-loads of school children have toured the Indiana landmark annually to learn about the humble beginnings of New Albany. This past year, the garden was reconstructed beside the home.

An original and unique bronze sculpture by local artist Brad White was unveiled in the Gardens along with a fountain. The art piece depicts the history of the Scribners and their roots in New Albany through four open books cradled and supported by two root systems.

Blessings in a Backpack

The Horseshoe Foundation is proud to support the work of Blessings in a Backpack, the national program designed to feed elementary school age children whose families may not have enough food on the weekends. In 2010, the Foundation gave $25,000 to match funds contributed to Blessings in a Backpack to support S. Ellen Jones and Fairmont elementary schools in New Albany. Horseshoe Southern Indiana and Blessings in a Backpack were excited to welcome celebrity chef Paula Deen to S.

Ellen Jones where she filled backpacks for the children. The legendary "Paula Deen Buffet" grand opening at Horseshoe Casino in Southern Indiana was celebrated with a brunch where all proceeds benefitted hungry children through Blessings in a Backpack.

Imagination Library Partnership

Free, age appropriate books in the mail each month for children through the Dolly Parton Imagination Library project have motivated thousands of Floyd County families to register their children for books. This great project to encourage reading is a partnership with The NA-FC Education Foundation and the Community Foundation of Southern Indiana. Most of the cost of the books has been underwritten by a $50,000 grant from the Horseshoe Foundation. The campaign to get all Floyd County children registered has been a huge success since it was initiated in August of 2009, with nearly 3,000 children signed up by the end of 2010.

This success would not have been possible without the many partners advocating on behalf of our children; CAPE, the Horseshoe Foundation and Community Foundation, United Way, our schools, newspapers, hospital, library, congregations, elected officials, and so many more.

Please help us pass the word in Floyd County through your neighborhoods, congregations or friends. Our goal is for every Floyd County child to receive these great books. Those who have children or grandchildren 0 to 5 years old and have not yet registered for books, go to www.imaginationlibrary.com or contact the Horseshoe Foundation Office at 812-945-4332.

New Albany Riverfront Amphitheater Concerts

The City of New Albany Riverfront Amphitheater provided even more fun, family-friendly and free music and activities on the Riverfront in 2010. The Horseshoe Foundation was actively involved in the planning, marketing and sponsorship of the Concert Series, Performing Arts series, Heritage and Holiday Festivals at the Amphitheater. Music heard across the levee included the entire spectrum from classic rock to bluegrass and everything in between. Local vendors provided food and drink.

Despite the hot summer, thousands gathered on the riverfront on weekends to hear bands, enjoy festivals, or performing arts. New Albany High School's performance of the "King and I" along with the Celtic Festival and Fiesta Latina were the best attended. The Independence Day Festival and Fireworks was also a huge draw and definite crowd pleaser!
